WEATHER BULLETIN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—Last bulletin gave forecast of disturbance to cross continent Oct 7 to 11 warm wave 6 to 10, cool wave 9 to 12. During this period temperatures will go from unusually high about Oct. 5 to below normal about 12. Heavy rains are expected with this storm and the storm intensities will be about normal. These rains will be very encouraging to those interested in Winter grain and a large acreage will be sown on account of good conditions and present prices. Those who do not get advices from this bureau of crop-weather information rely wholly on a guess when they plant and sow.

Next warm wave will reach Vancouver near Oct 11 and temperatures will rise on all the Pacific slope. It will cross Rocky ridge by close of Oct.
12 plains section 13, meridian 90, great lakes and Ohio valleys 14, eastern sections 15, reaching Newfoundland about Oct 16. Storm wave will follow about one day behind warm wave and cool wave about one day behind storm wave.

This will be one of the most severe storms of the month. It will also cause one of the heaviest rains of October. Temperatures of the week will average lower than usual and killing frosts will go south of the average line not far from October 17.

Another warm wave will reach Vancouver Oct. 17 and temperatures will rise on all the Pacific slope. It will cross Rocky ridge by close of 18, plain section 19, meridian 90, great lakes and Ohio valleys 20, eastern sections 21, reaching Newfoundland near Oct.
22. Storm wave will follow about one day behind warm wave and cool wave about one day behind storm wave.

This storm will be most severe in the far middle west and will then lose force until it is out on the Atlantic about Oct. 24 where it will become a dangerous sea storm. About Oct.
26 a tropical hurricane will organize in the West Indies and will be an object of considerable interest for a week or ten days following. At that point we will deliver it to the U. S.
Weather Bureau as it has telegraph connections with all the West Indies sections and can then make fairly good guesses as to its future route.

That hurricane will cause some heavy rains in the cotton states, not good for cotton, and it will cause a cold wave in the northwestern sections near last of October and a wave of moderately high temperatures.

Heaviest rains of the month will occur during week centering on October 26th.

We have written and published a ants, to be placed in the principal

It is not for sale but for free use of our friends. It begins with the Wends, B. C. 600, traces them thru their conquest of the Roman empire, the conquering of England 1066 by the armies of William the Conqueror, their migrations to America, the two branches known here as the English emigrants and the Scotch-Irish, their dominance in the American voluntary. A majority of the people of the thirteen colonies, and the officers of Washington's, Lee's and Grant's ardents have been of that race, Wilson and Hughes are descendants of the Norman French.
